

Sunday Services

February 1 – 9 and 11 a.m.

Responding to Escalating Inequality – Rev. Bryan Jessup

Both Pope Francis and the Unitarian Universalist Association have called on religious and economic bodies, governments and corporations to begin to wrestle with the escalating inequality in our world. In this sermon, the Rev. Jessup will share information on this topic from the UUA and ask what questions this growing inequality brings up for us spiritually.

February 8 – 9 and 11 a.m.

No, I'm not on the Dying Train now, but when it gets to the station – The Seven Friends

Accident or illness can render us unable to make medical decisions at any age. Who will make them for us: parents, spouse, children, or hospital staff? Ensuring that someone who knew their wishes would make those decisions was the impetus for an Advanced Directive group that has evolved into much more. Known as the Seven Friends, members of this unique support group will talk about their process and describe how they are facing important medical decisions before they happen.

The seven friends are all HUUF members. They are Jenny Hanson, Joy Thomas, Steve Sottong, Ann King, Debby Harrison, Sylvia Shaw, and Jessie Wheeler.

February 15 – 9 and 11 a.m.

What's in a Name? – Rev. Bryan Jessup

The multilayered meanings of love will be discussed. For our faith and many others, love is a central value. Yet it is a word that carries many meanings. In this service, just after Valentine's Day, we'll talk about romantic love, friendship, compassion and much more. A reminder: This is "Bring a Friend Sunday."

February 22 – 9 and 11 a.m.

The Road We Traveled - The Evolution of Our Fellowship – HUUF Elders

Join some of our long-time members as they share stories about the founding of our fellowship, some of its early happenings, and what it was like growing up in HUUF. Here is a small preview: In 1965, HUUF sponsored our African-American minister, Rev. Lewis McGee, to represent us in the civil rights march on Selma, Alabama In 1974. We ordained the Rev Joy Atkinson, who had been our intern minister as a student at Starr King. Decades later she returned to be our interim minister who prepared us to be in "right relationship" with our current minister, Rev. Bryan Jessup. The elders will also discuss how our buildings and grounds were selected and financed.
