

Sunday Services

Sunday, May 7 – 9 and 11 a.m.

Music Sunday

Elisabeth Harrington, the HUUF Choir, musicians and vocalists from the congregation will be featured in this service that will feed people's spirits with song.

Sunday, May 14 – 9 and 11 a.m.

Mother's Day Reflections – Worship Leaders

In this service, several mothers of different ages from the congregation will share how mothering looks to them from where they are in the stories of their lives. Pat McCutcheon will coordinate the service.

Sunday, May 21 – 9 and 11 a.m.

May 21 – Religious Education Sunday

At the 9 a.m. service, the Rev. Bryan Jessup will lead a quiet service in which we will reflect on how we have learned things about our spirits and how to care for them in the world.

At the 11 a.m. service, HUUF Director of Religious Education Jillian Mooney, teachers, parents and volunteers will talk with us about what they have learned this year about seeing the miracles of life all around us. We'll hear from our teen group and from the teachers of the Our Whole Lives Human Sexuality program. The congregation will celebrate the progress of our young people and show our gratitude for our teachers and staff.

Sunday, May 28 – 9 and 11 a.m.

How Great a Cloud of Witnesses – Rev. Bryan Jessup

On this Memorial Day service we will consider the people who have gone before us and how both famous and ordinary people have inspired us and served as examples for us.
